Fed Cattle Lower, Hogs Also Weaker At Markets Monday

Around the central markets on Monday fed steers and heifers were weak to unevenly lower at most points. The weakness that developed in the carcass beef trade late last week was evident in the early trade this week and put additional pressure on prices and most markets closed at the low points for the day. Slaughter cows and bulls were steady to bear, and unevenly lower at several markets. Slaughter cattle supplies were about level with a week ago. Monday's estimated cattle kill at 135,000 was level with last Monday, but 6,000 above a year earlier. Butcher hogs were lower at most points with declines of 25-50 cents to as much as $1 at some places. Monday's estimated hog kill at 154,000 was 39,000 higher than a week ago and was 66,000 above last year. The same date. Price trends, cautious on choice and prime steers and heifers and the mixed good and choice grades and the good to choice Holstein steers and on U.S. 1-3 choice Holstein steers and on U.S. 1-3 hogs scaling from 200 to 280 pounds to... Out-of-Condition CCC Grain Reported Available for Livestock Producers in Many Critically Dry Ranching Areas

Livestock producers and officials and legislators in Southwestern Areas that have been suffering from protracted drouth conditions are stepping up pressure on Agriculture Secretary John Block to supply emergency feed assistance, primarily by using feed grains that are reported to be so far out of condition as to be useless in the PIK program or for commercial sales or uses. Last week Texas Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower was granted a personal audience with Block and came away emptyhanded. Bentsen reported this week he had introduced legislation to require Block to take some action. Bentsen's statement follows: "Senator Lloyd Bentsen, noting that Texas ranchers are suffering through their worst drought in more than 30 years, introduced legislation Tuesday that would require the Department of Agriculture to provide emergency feed assistance. The Bentsen bill would eliminate the discretionary feature in current law which allows the Secretary of Agriculture to decide whether or not emergency feed assistance will be provided to drought-stricken ranchers. The secretary would retain discretion in determining what form the assistance would take. The bill would also allow the Secretary of Agriculture to release stocks of feed owned by the Commodity Credit Corporation for livestock feed. At present these CCC-owned commodities can be released only through a presidential disaster declaration. "The bill would also see to it that all farmers and ranchers suffering from a natural disaster could qualify for disaster assistance, whether or not their county has been declared a disaster area. Natural disasters do not follow county lines, and there is no rational reason why disaster aid programs should be limited by these artificial constraints," Bentsen said. "The CCC currently owns over 17 million bushels of corn that is classed as grade four or five and that is stored in or near the areas of Texas that are most in need of emergency livestock feed assistance. "This corn, purchased in the Midwest following the Russian grain embargo and shipped to the Texas Panhandle for storage, now sits overhanging the local grain markets and costing taxpayers about $5 million a year to store. "Although it is down-graded in the market and cannot be used for export or the Payment-in-Kind program it is still usable for livestock feed. "At Rankin, Texas, about 175 miles south of elevators full of this damaged corn, there are ranches that have had only six-tenths of an inch of rain this year. These people, suffering through the worst drought in more than 30 years, are watching a lifetime of hard work slip through their fingers. "These ranchers are not asking the government to give them this grain, they are willing to purchase it and to transport it themselves," Bentsen said. "The Department of Agriculture has sat on this problem too long. They have cost too many Texas ranchers their cattle and sheep and they have cost taxpayers too much in useless storage payments for damaged grain," Senator Bentsen said. Texas Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower says that last Wednesday's refusal by U.S. Secretary of Agriculture John Block to release deteriorating, government-stored corn to drought-plagued West Texas ranchers "is by no means the final word on the subject." "In fact," Hightower said, "I am encouraged by the growing sentiment in Congress to pass legislation to force Block to turn that grain loose." Hightower, who Wednesday met personally with Block in Washington to plead the case of the Texas ranchers, said he spent much of his two-day trip to the nation's capital talking with congressional leaders about the prospects for congressional action on the issue.

Administration Making Lower Interest Loans Available To Some

Washington - Bowing to pressure from farm-state lawmakers, President Reagan promised to enhance federal assistance to farmers and livestock producers who have suffered from this summer's drought. The president said the Farmers Home Administration would reduce to 5% from 8% the interest rate on natural-disaster loans, up to $100,000, for farmers and ranchers who can't obtain credit from commercial sources. The rate change is expected to cost the government an additional $200 million. The FHA, which is part of the Agriculture Department, expects to distribute $2 billion in disaster loans to farmers stricken by the recent drought the worst since the 1930s. President Reagan announced the lower rates after meeting with Agriculture Secretary John Block and Republican farm-state lawmakers. Administration officials say the sweetened credit terms count as much as cash aid as they are willing to give, despite continued prodding by some states and members of Congress. (CONT. ON PAGE 10A)

from the herd that wrote the book on Quality Brangus Females

Nearly a third of a century has been devoted to development of the Willow Springs cow herd—mother cows with the genetic stability that made WSR and Quality Brangus females synonymous.

Many daughters and granddaughters of WSR Rocky Joe 650 and WSR Cloud 942, such as the 942 daughter below, are mainstays in the herd. They're serviced by Successor, our full brother to the great Nan cow; Too Tall, a super grandson of Moody 916, dam of the immortal Rocky Joe; and Extra, 1983 International Champion. Plus a big assist from Bigfoot, Tana, 321, Night Train, and Crackerjack.

SPECIAL BEST-SELLER FEATURES

• Three breeding interests in WSR Miss Justana 336, a full sister of Nan and perhaps the highest producing Brangus Donor female to date.

• A full brother to Rocky Joe 650, the first natural son of Nan and Rocky, and a full brother to Crackerjack and Crackerjack.

• Show heifer prospects by Too Tall.

Those who have seen them say our

Cattle, Hog, Lamb Prices to Improve in '84 Period

Ed Uvacek with the Texas Agriculture Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Cattle feedlot marketings should be just under a year ago during the July-September quarter but down sharply in the last quarter of the year. Hog slaughter is expected to remain high through the rest of this year but will drop seasonally in the first and second quarter of the new year.

Prices for fed cattle and for yearling feeder steers are expected to average in the low $60s per hundredweight during the remainder of 1983, while feeder steer calves could average near $70, Uvacek predicts. Utility cow prices should stay below $40 and will likely dip into the low $30s by fall. Continued good grazing and more rain would help prices considerably.

For next year, Uvacek estimates that prices will rise, with the strongest increases occurring in the second quarter of 1984. Choice fed steer prices may average in the mid- to upper-$60s by then. Prices for yearling feeder steers will move slightly below fed cattle prices but could move back into a premium in 1984. Utility cows should average in the low $40s during most of next year.

Hog prices are expected to average $38 to $42 per hundredweight for the rest of this year, says the economist, but they should increase to an average $42 to $46 during the first quarter of 1984.

And, Uvacek adds, choice hogs sold at San Angelo in 1984 could average $1 to $6 higher per hundredweight than the mid-$50s price of this year and should be fairly stable for the rest of the year.

Gulf Coast All-Breeds Fall Bull Sale October 29, 1983

John Joyce, manager of World Sales, announces the Gulf Coast All-Breeds Fall Bull Sale to be held at Post City Stockyards in Seely, Texas on October 29, 1983 at 1 p.m.

The Gulf Coast All-Breeds Fall Bull Sale will consist of registered bulls of any breed at least eight months of age and not older than forty months of age. All bulls entered in the sale must have been originally in the signer's name, or have been transferred into the consignee's name by a nomination deadline. All bulls will have any necessary health certificates and will be fertility tested. The bulls will be guaranteed breeders by the consignee. All bulls in this sale will be sold by a team of veterinarians, structural soundness, and probably a group of commercial cattlemen. The sale will be on Friday, October 29, 1983, starting at 1 p.m. A Champion Bull will be selected from each breed and the "Super Bull" selected from the top bulls and awards given.

In announcing this Fall Bull Sale, sales manager John Joyce adds, "The success of our Spring Grand Bull Sale warranted a Fall All-Breeds Bull Sale. Many commercial cattlemen in the Gulf Coast area put their bulls on December 1 for breeding, therefore, fall sale such as this should give the ample time to make their selections."

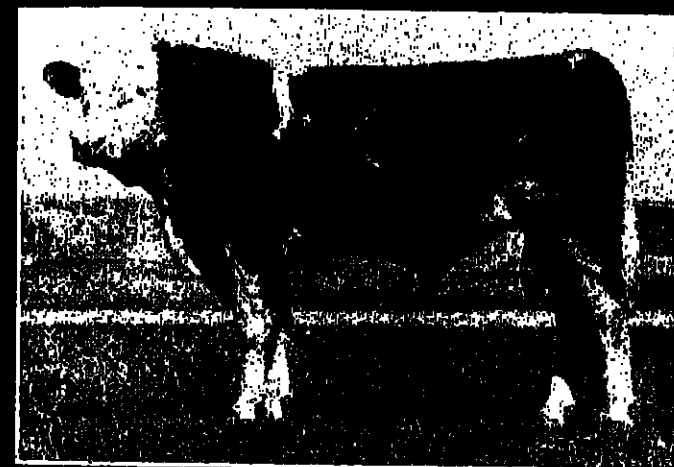

Nominations for the sale are due September 1, 1983. For further information or sales nominations contact World Sales, Rt. 2 Box 288, Waxahachie, Texas 76083 or phone 817/849-4791 and/or 713/342-2036.

Administration Making Lower Interest Loans Available To Some

"We feel there are adequate resources available to deal with any problems could foresee," said Agriculture Undersecretary Frank Naylor. "I speak for our good friends in Congress. Block told a news conference that new terms will be especially helpful to livestock producers, who have been selling off their herds because of the high cost of feed and pastureland. The enhanced credit aid, may help stem the tide of herd liquidation."

Currently, eligibility for the loans is granted on a county-by-county basis. So far, 456 counties in 28 states have qualified, but the Farmers Home agency is continuing to process requests. The loans are available to farmers and livestock producers, at low interest rate for those who can't get private credit.

The 5-percent rate is available only if the first $100,000 borrowed at 8-percent rate will remain in an amount above that sum, in the $800,000 maximum on each loan, USDA officials said.

Food and fiber producers who may be able to get loans elsewhere will continue to pay 13.75 percent interest on such emergency loans.

Block said in a statement that the reduced rates "will provide an economic boost" to farmers.

In Texas, where Farmers Home officials reportedly had not received a loan application after six weeks of the disaster program, that boost comes with it a loosening of the "credit elsewhere" limitation.

Farmers Home officials in the state have been requiring three reports from commercial lenders under the credit-elsewhere guidelines, and a legal room for local authorities to tighten the restrictions, said Frank Naylor, special assistant to USDA undersecretary Frank Naylor, who oversees the credit programs. "But that's not necessary," said federal rules, Naylor added.

Instead, a Texas applicant who can't show a loan rejection from any regular commercial lender, Farmers Home also is cutting "all the red tape" requiring the rejection notice in writing, Naylor said.

He said he hoped that lenders will reject loans to ranchers simply to keep their drought-stressed customers on the lower-cost money. Most commercial loan rates are in the 12- to 14-percent range now.

Vernon to Host Range, Pasture Seeding Symposium

Vernon — Between 300 and 400 ranchers, farmers, seed producers and other agribusiness leaders from Texas and Oklahoma are expected to take part in a symposium on range and pasture seeding in the Southern Great Plains here Oct. 19.

The day-long session will take place at the Wilbarger County Auditorium in Vernon, located at 2100 Tenth Avenue. Registration will begin at 7:30 a.m., and the program will open with a welcome and introductions starting at 8:30 a.m.

Promising new grasses for western Oklahoma and Texas will be discussed, and will include new releases by the Conservation Service in cooperation with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station; new cold tolerant strains of alfalfa that may adapt to north Texas; and promising old-world bluegrass porary Chairman of the group, proved as the purpose of the organization "the alliance of all purebred breeders and their associations to protect and promote the purebred cattle industry in Texas." Margaret Watkins, Texas as Temporary Secretary.

Purebred Cattle Alliance Underway

The structure of the organization is being developed by four committees. The committees and their chairmen are as follows:

By-Laws - Jim Brown, Texas breeder and president Texas Brangus Association, Belton.

Membership & Fees - Fred Bala, Saller breeder, Houston.

Association Contacts - Warren rett, Exec. Secy., Texas Brangus Association, San Antonio.

Organizational Goals - Mike J. Red Brangus breeder and Texas American Red Brangus Association, Spicewood.

Those attending the Austin meeting discussed the various aspects of a purebred industry that could be helped by an organization that would provide a forum for discussion and manifestation of unity between various purebred associations and members. Temporary Chairman Watkins stated, "This organization will give a new dimension to better communications between the purebred breeder and their associations, a mechanism for better unity within the purebred cattle industry, as well as reasonable and effective way to purebred cattle breeders to deal with State and Federal legislative problems including such issues as animal health.

The group discussed the need for continued monitoring of the Texas Animal Health Commission, and Randy Rio Vista International, Inc. in Antonio, agreed to attend the meeting of the Texas Animal Health Commission for the purpose of reporting on transpires to the next meeting of the Texas Purebred Cattle Alliance.

Temporary Chairman Watkins scheduled the next meeting of the Committee Chairmen with the temporary office in Dallas on Oct. 9.

Heflin Calls For Agriculture Position In State Department

position will ensure that there is a part in the State Department as a relationship between agriculture and foreign policy. "Increasingly, agricultural policy is being set by officials of the State Department as they respond to internal events."

"In the past decade there have been four embargoes of agricultural products against the Soviet Union, and in the wake of the Korean war, Heflin pointed out. "It is clear that only party injured by such embargoes the United States farmer since the Soviets have plenty of other supplies from which to choose."

Heflin said the grain embargo has critically harmed America's reputation as a reliable supplier and reduced prospects for future sales.

"Agricultural products account for percent of all U.S. exports and contribute $26 billion to our balance payments," he explained. "Each year $1 billion in exports creates as many as 36,000 new jobs."

"Through this position the State Department can become a more aggressive tool in promoting agricultural exports abroad," the senior Senator said. "Aggressive U.S. policies will expand trading opportunities, especially in the developing nations, and where trade increases, U.S. influence."

"We should provide a spokesperson for the State Department for the American farmer, who has borne the brunt of many of our foreign policy decisions," he added. "At the same time I believe the creation of this new post will contribute to a stronger American agricultural position in the world."

Early Withdrawal Penalties Lifted For Alicia Victims

The Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas has granted a temporary suspension of early withdrawal penalties associated with Regulation Q for depositors who have incurred losses as a result of Hurricane Alicia. This action permits any member bank to pay a time deposit before maturity to depositors in Brazoria, Chambers, Fort Bend, Galveston, Harris and Matagorda counties (retroactive to August 19, 1983) and in Liberty, Montgomery and San Jacinto counties (retroactive to August 29, 1983). The action is effective until midnight, February 18, 1984.

Depositors seeking to withdraw time deposit funds must submit a signed statement, approved by an officer of the bank, describing the disaster-related loss.

"Dean Of American Public Speakers" To Address BBU Members

The man who has been called the greatest public speaker in the United States has accepted an invitation to address members of the Beefmaster Breeders Universal at the annual convention this fall. The BBU meeting will take place October 26-28, 1983, at New Orleans, Louisiana.

Dr. Kenneth McFarland, a native of Kansas, is acknowledged to be the nation's most eloquent and effective spokesman for what is commonly called the "American System." He is the recipient of Freedom Foundation's prestigious National Leadership Award, as well as many other formal recognition.

Whether he's before a farm group, salesmen or industrial leaders, McFarland's incredibly wide range of interests makes it easy for him to "talk the language" of the group. His speeches reflect the depth of his broad experience after more than a quarter century of covering America.

Dr. McFarland is widely heralded as an authority on the vital subject of law enforcement. His writings, studies and speeches on this important subject have won the acclaim of lawyers and laymen alike. He also has a special appreciation of the importance of a salesmanship in a competitive economy. His own phenomenal success in "selling America to Americans" caused the Sales and Marketing Executive International to designate him for its award of Outstanding Salesman of America.

He is the author of "Eloquence in Public Speaking", now in its third printing and a best seller in its field.

AHA Announces Genetic Identification System

 the which contain 50 percent or more registered Hereford blood. A unique factor in the service will be the use of the AHA computer data bank of Total Performance Records from which growth and maternal breeding values on the cattle involved will be produced. In addition, the percentage of Hereford and other breeds involved in the cross will be documented on computerized pedigree records.

 "The recognized exceptional value of Hereford blood in most progressive crossbreeding programs and the demand for our breed genetic data bank has prompted this action. While there are several F1 and breed upgrade programs currently being carried on by other breed associations, the Genetic Identification System differs in that it documents varying breed makeup and genetic potential. In essence, it makes our performance program available to commercial and composite cattle which are established with a registered Hereford base and maintain at least 50 percent Hereford blood in the breeding program," according to H.H. Dickenson, AHA executive vice president.

"From a program administration standpoint, the key elements for this system are already a part of our in-house computer activities. This project adds another dimension to our efforts to expand the Hereford influence. I want to emphasize strongly that in no way does this program affect the Herd Book for registered Hereford cattle. It identifies breed makeup and performance of the Hereford cross animal and utilizes the Hereford base to predict genetic breeding value," Dickenson added.

For simplicity's sake, animals processed through the Genetic Identification System will be identified as "Herfex" cattle. The basis of the new concept allow the progeny resulting from crossing of a registered Hereford with any other breed or cross to be eligible for the Herfex designation. Through the registered Hereford portion of the pedigree, it is possible to access the AHA genetic data base and, thereby, produce breeding values on important traits. Producers will determine the degree of and the variation in the other breed makeup of a Herfex, but Hereford blood must make up 50 percent or more of the breed involved.

The Genetic Identification System concept resulted from requests by cattlemen from wide areas of the country, discussion with the scientific community on the merits of the program, and an evaluation of the performance capabilities of the AHA's data processing facilities.

Complete details will be available in the near future. Animal scientists as well as producers who requested this service have termed the AHA's plan as "one of tremendous value" to the beef cattle industry.

Tom Dean Herefords Has Champion Female At Kansas State Fair

The Kansas State Fair Register of Merit Hereford Show, Hutchinson, was the scene of some very tough competition as 186 head of the Hereford breed's best bulls and females were paraded before Judge Jake White, Colorado Springs, Co. The highly competitive show was dedicated to Harry Schlickau, Argonia, a reputation Kansas Hereford breeder.

L1 Challenger, the senior champion bull owned by Harrell Hereford Ranch, Blair, Co., Wilson Herefords, Thorpe, Wyo., and K & B Herefords, Ocala, Fla., was Judge White's choice for the grand champion bull.

Following "Challenger" to the winner circle was SH Advancer 150 ET, the reserve senior champion bull owned by Robin Coulter, Bridgeport, N.J.; Harry J. Brown & Sons, Lodge Grass, Wyo., and Scott Holden Herefords, Abilene, Mo.

Miss T Classic L1 555 ET, the heifer calf champion, received the grand champion female title. The champion female, owned by Morgan & Marcotte Cattle Co., Sedgwick, Co., and Tom Dean Herefords, Cherokee, Tex., was bred by SC Classic ET.

The reserve grand champion heifer winner went to MJB Vahity 2000 ET, the top junior yearling and yearling heifer champion exhibited by Sherry Brown, Lodge Grass, Mo.

The champion get-of-sire group was the progeny of SC Classic ET. The winning get entries were owned by several firms including, Morgan & Marcotte Cattle Co., Tom Dean Herefords, Hudson Herefords, Harrison, Ar.; Higgins Hereford Ranch, Nowata, Ok.; Dennis Hereford Ranches, Grady, Ok., and Margo Schecher, Everett, Ka.

Lone Star Hereford Ranch took the top honors in the best-six-head competition.

The progeny of SC Classic ET, claimed the champion get-of-sire title at the Harry Schlickau Register of Merit Hereford Show, at the Kansas State Fair, Hutchinson. The winning group were owned by several firms, including Morgan & Marcotte Cattle Co., Sedgwick, Co.; Tom Dean Herefords, Cherokee, Tex.; Higgins Hereford Ranch, Nowata, Ok.; Hudson Herefords, Harrison, Ar.; Dennis Hereford Ranches, Grady, Ok., and Margo Schecher, Everett, Ka.

Tom Dean, Cherokee, and Morgan & Marcotte Cattle Co., Sedgwick, Co., were the owners of the first-ever senior heifer calf in Register of Merit Hereford competition at the West Texas State Fair in Abilene, Texas. The winning heifer was L1 Dominant 555 ET.

Colo., and Nebraska Beef Packers, Inc., Gering, Neb., which was earmarked for use in the federal school lunch program. The action was prompted by reports indicating the ground beef may have come from substandard cattle and may have been processed under less than sanitary conditions. The U.S. Department of Agriculture estimates there are 6.4 million pounds currently in distribution channels. Block said routine USDA samples from those facilities since October 1981 indicate no health threat, and no reports of illness associated with beef from the two plants.

Henk Delaat Farm Equipment To Sell October 15

The complete dispersal of all the Henk Delaat farm equipment will be held Saturday, October 15 near Terrell, Texas. Sale time is at 11 a.m. and the sale location is the Bar 9 Ranch headquarters on I-20, five miles West of Terrell.

Selling will be eight John Deere and Farmall tractors, combines, hay equipment, grain drills, cultipackers, and other farm implements. Also selling in the auction is the equipment of the confidence in the meat supply. Block said, "I have ordered the detention, testing and investigation of these products. Commodities approved for the school lunch program have always been of the highest quality and it is imperative to take these steps as another indication of the government's commitment to maintain such standards."

USDA's Food Safety and Inspection Service already is analyzing samples from 14 locations across the country for foreign matter, chemical residues and spoilage. Block said results from those analyses would be available within a few days.

HENK DELAAT
FARM EQUIPMENT

Terrell, Texas

AUCTION SITE: All equipment will be moved to the Bar 9 Ranch Headquarters on I-20 Highway, 5 miles West of Terrell, Texas and sold to the highest bidder. (20 miles east of Dallas on I-20.)

Mr. Henk Delaat has sold his Farms and moved back to Holland, and has commissioned Bob Mitchell, Inc. to sell all of his farm equipment to the highest bidder. He purchased all of it new — serviced it well and kept it in the barn when not in use. We will also sell in the auction the equipment from the ASBERRY ESTATE and the MYERS FARM. This equipment is also like new and has been kept in the barn when not in use.

We will also sell about 50 pieces of older equipment for local farmers who are changing their operation. These are absolutely the cleanest tractors we have ever sold in one auction.

Everything described in this brochure is thought to be correct but is not guaranteed to be. Everything will be sold as is where is. Any announcements made at auction supercedes all other announcements and advertisements.

A "little ear" on feeder calves has become an important marketing factor in recent years.

Some feeders are demanding that their order buyers select calves with some Brahman in their genetic make-up.

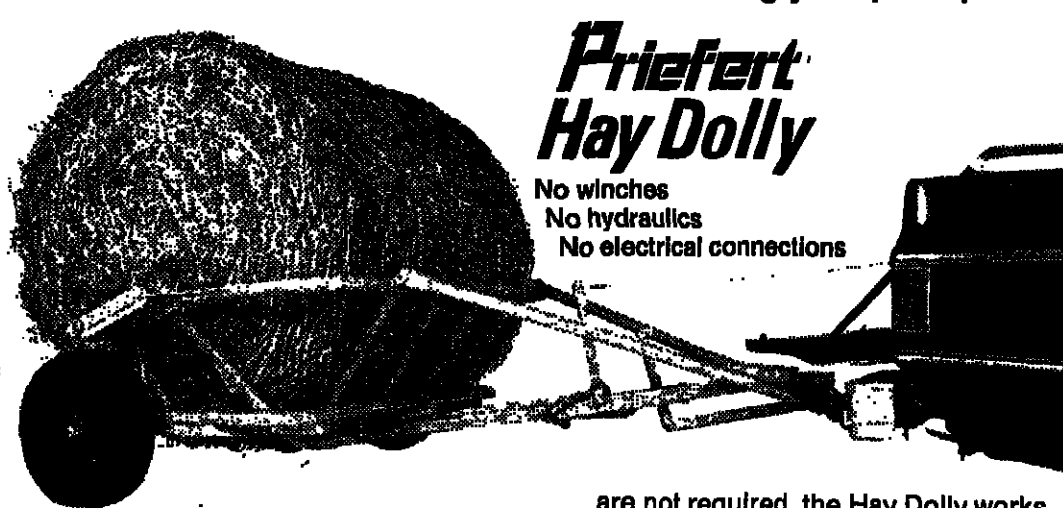

We think one of the best tools available to put a "little ear" on your feeder calves is to turn out a Beefmaster bull.

Contact the N.B.A. for a list of breeders who have breeding age Beefmaster bulls for sale.

Move round bales as gently as hydraulics without leaving your pickup seat!

Priefert Hay Dolly

No winches
No hydraulics
No electrical connections

Don't Damage Your Roof!

When you get moisture under the roof of the bale, it can't dry out and this spoils the hay. The Priefert Hay Dolly never touches the roof, never drops or rolls the bale. With no bale damage, there's seldom bale spoilage.

The Priefert Hay Dolly hooks to your pickup or tractor with only a simple pin hitch and trip rope. Because brakes are not required, the Hay Dolly works well in bad ground conditions. The simplicity of the Priefert bale mover will amaze you and assure you of a long, productive life for this unit.

crops and shrinkin' exports, compounded by droughts, floods and pestilences of one kind or another and jst about everybody agrees somethin' ort to be done, but no one seems to have more than a vague notion what, when or where.

There is one thing that sticks out like a sore thumb, and it is a thing that was not always with us, and that is th' degree of volatility of agricultural commodities. It does not take a great memory to recall when a shift of livestock prices of more than two bits a hundred was a real shocker and sent gufflers & quakes all up and down th' next chain. Th' same was true of cotton, corn, wheat, fruits and vegetables and every thing else, a penny or two was an earth shaking experience.

Today livestock and meat prices can swing two, three, four or five dollars in a single session. Commodities can move th' trading limits up and down in th' same day. Th' way those futures markets have been bouncing around if there were no limits to hold down th' price swings heaven only knows what would happen. It would bust jst about every trader alive, and where those fellows have a history of bein' busted several times in a lifetime, they could get busted every hour on th' hour if those markets were turned loose.

We have all kinds of exapures tryin' to figure out what is goin' on in our export trade, but as we found out with Jimmy Carter's grain embargo, th' grain moves in mysterious ways. U.S. grain, once it left these shores, wound up in th' Soviet via Spain, Portugal, or whatever places, and even today a majority of th' shipments are labelled "destination unknown" or might as well be, since they are diverted before they are out of sight.

It might be th' blame for these volatile prices can be laid at th' door of th' speculators. If so, some controls on this type of gambling are in order. Certainly agricultural crops which take months, or in th' case of livestock, years, to plan and produce could be better managed if markets were more stable. However, before we start tryin' to stabilize prices, let's be sure there ain't no politicians or burrocrats git into th' game. That'd jst clobber it up worse than it already is.

Ever thine,
The Eddier.

F.S. Uncle Dunk reports he is gittin' lots of mail pro & con about our need for a new national holiday honoring Martin Luther King. Dunk says it is OK with him if they set a day, as long as it ain't on a working day. We already have so many national, state & local holidays it is almost impossible to git any work out of anyone and low productivity is one reason we are bein' beat to death by foreign imports of all kinds. Why should any national holiday be held on Monday, which is supposed to be th' first business day of th' week? Th' only excuse has to be that a lot of people ain't interested in whether this country does any business, or not. Reckon them Commies are at th' bottom of Monday holidays? Dunk figgers if them Air Line pilots strike th' whole country over that controversy between some companies and some unions, it will be a service that says th' Golden Eggs. And, all this talk about how unsafe flyin' is, unless th' operators are unionised, is a similar example of how to self-destruct.

Highway Commission Backs Ag Exemption

Department believed that a technical reading of the legislation could mean the end of the agricultural exemption.

Concerned about the effect of such an interpretation on farming operations, Texas Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower contacted Governor Mark White and Highway Commission Chairman Robert C. Lanier of Houston, who pledged their assistance in solving the problem.

"We agreed to correct it about 15 minutes after we learned about it," Lanier said after Wednesday's action. "We felt the intent of the legislature was to regulate the loads on the highways and not to restrict farmers."

Without the clarifying action by the commission, farmers could have been required to purchased permits at a cost of $40 per month in order to move vehicles wider than eight and a half feet on any public road.

"The effect of the commission's action is to keep the exemption just like it was," Lanier said.

Hightower praised the action of the commission, saying, "This is a good example of government making rules work for the good of the people. Farmers simply had to have this exemption to get their farming done, and the Highway Commission acted quickly to make sure that the law was interpreted fairly."

A recent independent study of finishing steers, sponsored by the makers of RALGRO and the makers of Synovex® implants, now represents the largest, most comprehensive cattle implant trial on record. Research showed cattle implanted with RALGRO first, then implanted with RALGRO, to have gained more with greater feed efficiency than any of the other implant combinations tested. In fact, the RALGRO/RALGRO combination's total gain in pounds per head was 12 pounds greater than the Synovex/Synovex implant combination. The RALGRO combination also had better feed efficiency over control animals as compared to the Synovex combination.

Impressive results like these confirm what other studies have shown - HALPRO is the cattle implant of choice for minimizing feeder contact. Your HALPRO dealer has information. Or write or call HALPRO, P.O. Box 100, Fort Plain, NY 12069.

Commodities Comment

Sept. 29, 1983

Cruel! That's the only word I can use to describe commodity trading under current market conditions. The bulls in all markets are getting absolutely annihilated. There may be a recovery under way here in the U.S., but you'd never know it watching commodity prices. Grains, livestock and metals have all fallen hard and fast over the past several days. The markets are extremely nervous. The "bears" are having a field day and they are in total command. These markets remind me of a year and a half ago when the prime rate

Obi Angus/Brangus Bull Sale Will Be Oct. 27 In Stillwater

Oklahoma Beef Incorporated will hold its Performance Tested Angus and Brangus Bull Sale on Thursday, October 27 at the OBI Sale Barn, eight miles West of Stillwater on Highway 61. Starting time is 1 p.m.

Selling will be 40 Angus bulls and 30 Brangus bulls. The bulls in this sale were selected by their owners as the tops of the crop, gain tested for 140 days at Oklahoma Beef, Inc., and performed in the top 70 percent of those tested.

For more information, contact: Dr. Charles McPeake, OBI Station Manager, Animal Science Dept., O.S.U., Stillwater, OK 74078, 405/624-6060.

was 20% and the U.S. was in the midst of a recession. The overall market psychology is very bearish - it's probably time to be a bull!

Diamond C Simmental Bulls Sell Oct. 27

Diamond C Ranch will hold their annual Simmental Bull Sale, Thursday, October 27 at the Diamond C Ranch headquarters, Stephenville, TX.

At 10 a.m. on sale day, there will be an educational program with Dr. Raul Grooms and Dr. Steve Hammond. Lunch will be at 12 noon and the sale will start at 1 p.m.

Selling will be 100 bulls with the bloodlines of Signal, Galant, Adonis, and all from a certified brucellosis free herd (#5445).

Free delivery will be offered on volume purchases and all cattle will be delivered for not more than $100 per head.

Auctioneers will be Joe McWhorter and Charles Rollins.

For more information, contact: Diamond C Ranch, Route 2, Box 592, Stephenville, TX 76401, 817/956-4431.

Dollar and sluggish world economies have caused the markets to wobble in demand and of the overall price picture. The demand end of this market is questionable. Consequently, prices are locked in a giant volatility range. November soybeans have a port at $8.40 and resistance at $9. What we are witnessing is trading being cut to ribbons buying the top of the trading range and selling the bottom. The only thing for certain is that both bulls and bears have been buying one time or another over the past several weeks. In the meantime, bean prices have gone nowhere this week they are sharply higher, the corn is sharply lower, with the corn and soybean prices basically following suit. At this writing, November beans closed at $8.54, December corn at $3.81, and December wheat at $3.70.

The Mercantile Exchange also has a cruel market. Hog and belly pigs have fallen to their lowest level in 11 weeks. Many have been expecting a sharp price rally in hogs, similar to the one in cattle; but so far they've been mistaken. Hog prices have slipped under continued poor demand and relatively high slaughter. Daily grain prices haven't helped matters either. I'm quite surprised by the continued strength in cattle prices; commercial activity has been noticeably absent and most of the buying in the cattle pit has been from computers probing the long side. I look for cattle prices to be ground to hog prices over the near term. At this writing, October cattle closed at $1.05, October feeders at $0.80, October hogs at $4.45, and February bellies at $8.12.

Which way from here? I still like the bull side of the grain markets. The upcoming USDA Crop Report will be bullish and the crops are still unharvested. The grains, especially the soybeans, are a wild affair and action is urged. Remember, that the bears are locked in a trading range and price action is incredibly fast and dangerous. Use stops and don't marry your position. Buy the breaks - I still feel that we highs for the year are a possibility.

I'm bearish over the next 30 days on livestock prices. A seasonal lull in slaughter and poor demand should keep prices heavily on prices. I think November feeders will hit $5.50 and December live cattle could hit $5.50 before the year's end. The hog futures should work to the $8.50 level later in October. There will be just too much meat around to sustain current prices. So the rallies.

Watch the Bonds, GNMAY and foreign currencies! Major bottoms seem to be in place and sizable up moves appear near at hand. Should the economy show signs of slowing down, the financial futures could move sharply higher. December Bonds seem headed for 75-76. Who knows, maybe if commodity prices keep declining, Paul Volcker will give another cut in the discount rate. That will definitely give you an up-move in the financials. Jerry Welch, Commodity Specialist, Prudential Bache Securities, 251 S. Main Street, Suite 1400, Clayton, MO 63105, Toll Free 800-325-7070.

Wool & Mohair

Denver, Sept. 29 (USDA) - Inquiry for domestic wool good but trading extremely slow due to scarce supplies which are in tight hands. At sealed bid sale in Ozone, Texas on Tuesday, 62,600 lbs. of fall wool offered with complete clearance. Wool was showing signs of drought conditions with length generally around 1 inch, prices for paint free ranged 80.5-98.25 cents with 70s at upper end of range and 64/82s at lower levels. Paint branded lots ranged 75-92 cents, mostly 75-85 cents. Near 8,600 lbs. twelve month remnant 64s ranged $8.1-1.08 grease FOB warehouse. Australian wool auctions steady to firm with the AWC buying 20-25%. Local activity on foreign wools quiet through September after fairly active July/August sales. Texas adult mohair $4.60-4.66 grease FOB warehouse. In South Africa this week 940,000 lbs. offered and sold, prices on adult 12.5% higher to reach record levels. Young goat and kid 2.5-5% higher. Demand very good and trading active.

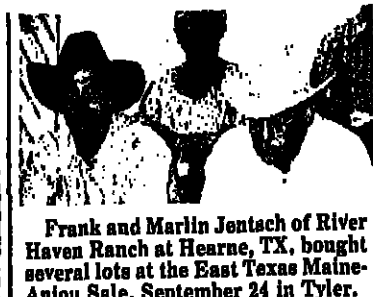

I have learned, though late, this rule: to hate an enemy as one who may become a friend, and serve a friend as knowing that his friendship may not last.

Martha and John Hawes were host to the biggest ever Simbrah Sale in Woodville, MS, on September 19 as the dispersal grossed $446,186.

"THIS IS NO BULL"
Virgen Perma-Bilt Engineering department is now offering a 17
x 24" windmill cylinder barrel with caps, at 1/4 the price they are selling for now! These barrels and caps are made from thick, heavy wall PVC and then lined with 1/2" of urethane. These barrels are as good as any brass barrel on the market! The urethane lining assures long life and true-chord strokes. Our 1 7/8" x 24" barrel sells for $37.95 plus $2.75 postage. It connects right to your 2" pipe (steel or PVC). These urethane lined barrels are doing wonderful jobs right now. Save the information. This is our 33rd year.

ON FRIDAY, OCTOBER 28, 1983
1:00 P.M.

All bulls will be presented to a team of veterinarians who will sift them for structural soundness.

The weight-per-day-of-age will be calculated on each bull and each bull will be individually graded by a group of commercial cattlemen.

To be eligible to sell, a bull must receive a grade of at least 86 out of a possible 100.

A champion from each breed will be selected and an overall "Super" bull will be chosen from the breed champions.

A champion pen of F-1 heifers will be selected by a group of commercial cattlemen.
